

Course Number

PHL-251-01

Course Description

An examination of issues debated by ancient Greek and Roman philosophers that became central to western philosophy, including the nature of reality, the criteria for knowledge, the difference between good and pleasure, and the principles of political justice. Discussion of readings from the Pre-Socratics, Plato, Aristotle, the Epicureans and the Stoics

Academic Term

22/WI

Instructor

Scheiter, Krisanna

Location & Meeting Time

Karp Hall-001+ T/TH 01:55PM-03:40PM LEC

Credits

1.00

Capacity

28

Total Students

30

Additional Information

<http://www.union.edu/Philosophy>

Common Curriculum

HUM Arts & Humanities

Academic Department

Philosophy

Field Of Study

Philosophy (PHL)