Course Number MLT-201-01 Course Description From the glitzy production studios of 1930's Shanghai to the contemporary hinterlands of China, the backstreets of Hong Kong, and the towns of Taiwan, this course examines the development and transformation of Chinese cinema. It explores questions of aesthetics, Chinese identity, transnationalism, and representation. All films subtitled. Academic Term 22/WI Instructor Zhang, Zhen Location & Meeting Time Karp Hall-004+ M/W 03:05PM-04:45PM LEC Credits 1.00 Capacity 15 Total Students 21 Common Curriculum LCC Languages & Cultures HUM Arts & Humanities WAC Writing Across Curriculum Interdisciplinary Programs Asian Studies Film Studies Academic Department Modern Languages Field Of Study Mod Lit in Trans (MLT)