

Course Number

ATH-100-01

Course Description

A practical introduction to speechmaking. Through varied and increasingly complex speech assignments, students learn to integrate standard skills in public communication: speech concept and content, the organization and support of ideas, audience analysis and involvement, plus physical presentation techniques including personal style and the mastery of multimedia presentational technology. Course Types: HUM, GCAD, GSPE

Academic Term

22/FA

Instructor

Venning, Daniel

Location & Meeting Time

Wold Center-128+ M/W/F 11:45AM-12:50PM LEC

By Permission of Instructor

Y

Credits

1.00

Capacity

16

Total Students

13

Common Curriculum

HUM

GCAD

GSPE

Academic Department

Theater & Dance

Field Of Study

Theater Arts (ATH)