

Course Number

PSY-331-01

Course Description

Examination and evaluation of scientific theories and research about emotions, including the evolution and development of emotions, the physiological and neurological underpinnings of emotions, individual differences and psychopathology, and the role of emotions in close relationships and everyday life.

Academic Term

22/WI

Instructor

Hart, Joshua

Location & Meeting Time

Bailey Hall-300+ T/TH 10:55AM-12:40PM LEC

Credits

1.00

Capacity

25

Total Students

24

Additional Information

<http://www.union.edu/Psychology>

Academic Department

Psychology

Field Of Study

Psychology (PSY)