

Course Number

ATH-113-01

Course Description

This studio course is an introduction to the principles and practices of theatrical scenic design. Students will explore theatrical design techniques and how these contribute to the collaborative storytelling process and the relationship of theatrical design to film, architecture and animation. The course will include introduction to design fundamentals, script analysis, visual research, architecture, hand drafting, fast rendering techniques, perspective rendering and model building

Academic Term

22/WI

Instructor

Mannion, Andrew

Location & Meeting Time

Yulman Theatre-201 M/W 03:05PM-04:45PM LEC

Credits

1.00

Capacity

10

Total Students

9

Common Curriculum

HUM Arts & Humanities

Academic Department

Theatre & Dance

Field Of Study

Theater Arts (ATH)