

Course Number

PHL-222-01

Course Description

This course will introduce students to philosophical work about sports and games. Topics to be covered include the nature and value of sports and games; lying and cheating in sports and games; the ethics of performance enhancing drugs; racism, sexism, and transphobia in sports and games; and gender separation in sports and games, especially scholastic sports.

Academic Term

22/SP

Instructor

Friedell, David

Location & Meeting Time

Karp Hall-004+ T/TH 01:55PM-03:40PM LEC

Credits

1.00

Capacity

20

Total Students

23

Additional Information

<http://www.union.edu/Philosophy>

Academic Department

Philosophy

Field Of Study

Philosophy (PHL)