

Course Number

SOC-226-01

Course Description

An overview of the social work role in health care settings as an advocate, practitioner, and leader within interdisciplinary teams. A comprehensive view of the professional values, theories, and methods that social workers utilize in this role to provide advocacy, individual, family and group counseling, educate patients and families, effective crisis intervention, resource referrals and influence public health policies. Course Types:

SOCS

Academic Term

22/SP

Instructor

Patterson, Rosemary

Location & Meeting Time

Karp Hall-105+ M/W/F 09:15AM-10:20AM LEC

Credits

1.00

Capacity

24

Total Students

26

Additional Information

<http://www.union.edu/Sociology>

Common Curriculum

SOCS

STS

Academic Department

Sociology

Field Of Study

Sociology (SOC)