

Course Number

SOC-212-01

Course Description

This course examines historical and contemporary patterns of American family from cross-cultural perspectives. We explore the ways in which race/ethnicity, social class, gender roles, conflict and crisis, and the media influence family life.

Academic Term

22/FA

Instructor

Hill Butler, Deidre

Location & Meeting Time

T/TH 09:00AM-10:45AM LEC

Credits

1.00

Capacity

24

Total Students

0

Additional Information

<http://www.union.edu/Sociology>

Common Curriculum

LCC Languages & Cultures

SOCS Social Science

Interdisciplinary Programs

Africana Studies

American Studies

Gender/Sexuality/Women's St

Academic Department

Sociology

Field Of Study

Sociology (SOC)