

Course Number

FRN-430-01

Course Description

West-African oral genres with a focus on tales and epics in their form and ideologies. Through a study of the oral literature of the region, we will explore the socio-cultural structures of ancient West Africa, their collapse through religious and colonial implications, and their vestiges in today's Africa.

Academic Term

22/FA

Instructor

Ndiaye, Cheikh

Location & Meeting Time

Wold Center-118+ T/TH 10:55AM-12:40PM LEC

Credits

1.00

Capacity

15

Total Students

8

Common Curriculum

HUL

LCCF

HUM

WAC

Interdisciplinary Programs

Africana Studies

Academic Department

Modern Languages

Field Of Study

French (FRN)