Course Number FRN-430-01 Course Description West-African oral genres with a focus on tales and epics in their form and ideologies. Through a study of the oral literature of the region, we will explore the socio-cultural structures of ancient West Africa, their collapse through religious and colonial implications, and their vestiges in today's Africa. Academic Term 22/FA Instructor Ndiaye, Cheikh Location & Meeting Time Wold Center-118+ T/TH 10:55AM-12:40PM LEC Credits 1.00 Capacity 15 Total Students 8 Common Curriculum HUL LCCF HUM WAC Interdisciplinary Programs Africana Studies Academic Department Modern Languages Field Of Study French (FRN)