Course Number PHL-251-01 Course Description An examination of issues debated by ancient Greek and Roman philosophers that became central to western philosophy, including the nature of reality, the criteria for knowledge, the difference between good and pleasure, and the principles of political justice. Discussion of readings from the Pre-Socratics, Plato, Aristotle, the Epicureans and the Stoics Academic Term 22/FA Instructor Scheiter, Krisanna Location & Meeting Time T/TH 01:55PM-03:40PM LEC Credits 1.00 Capacity 20 Total Students 0 Additional Information http://www.union.edu/Philosophy Common Curriculum HUM Arts & Humanities Academic Department Philosophy Field Of Study Philosophy (PHL)