

Course Number

SOC-207-01

Course Description

Sociology of Black Religious Experiences is a sociological analysis of a pivotal sector of Black communities, namely Black religious institutions and spiritual encounters. Topics include slave religions, the founding of independent Black churches, the Black musical heritage, Voodoo, and the legacies of Malcom X and Martin Luther King, Jr. and Black Lives Matter issues. The cornerstone of the course is the examination of how Social Justice and spiritual expression are interconnected and socially constructed.

Academic Term

20/FA

Instructor

Hill Butler, Deidre

Location & Meeting Time

Synchronous Online-ONLI M/W 03:30PM-05:10PM LEC

Petition

N

Credits

1.00

Capacity

24

Total Students

8

Additional Information

<http://www.union.edu/Sociology>

Common Curriculum

LCC Languages & Cultures

SOCS Social Science

Interdisciplinary Programs

Africana Studies

Religious Studies

American Studies

Academic Department

Sociology

Field Of Study

Sociology (SOC)